inaccessible area, as can be seen and felt by the abundance of wildlife and the utter tranquility in the camps.

Situated on the island of Xaxaba, this cool retreat, shaded by a canopy of indigenous trees and Ilala Palms, overlooks a surrounding lagoon fed by the tranquil waterways of the Delta. The area offers prolific birdlife and mammal sightings. It is also the site of one of the most romantic bars in the world, the Fish Eagle Bar, as quoted by The New York Times.

Belmond Eagle Island Lodge offers game viewing by mokoro (traditional dugout canoe) or by motorized boat, which is particularly enjoyable as you sip your sundowner at the end of the day. Mokoro Canoe Safari This traditional dugout canoe takes you gliding over shallow, clear waters past brilliant water lilies and papyrus grasses to areas inaccessible by boat.

Bird Watching Many people come to Eagle Island purely to experience its huge variety of birds. The 400 land and aquatic species drawn by the watery Okavango Delta make for unrivalled viewing.

Fishing The waters are rich with tilapia, spotted and silver catfish also inhabit these lazy pools. African pike, infamous fighters, are a favorite snare. If you have never fished before, this is the ultimate place to start.

Village Life Eagle Island Camp is positioned close to Xaxaba village. Fortunate visitors may be invited into a private home to experience aspects of its residents’ way of life. This is no tourist attraction, but a community of people who have adapted ancient traditions to modern times.

***Please note that if the water-levels at Eagle Island Lodge is low, water activities may not be possible. We will then offer game drives in place of the motorized boating / mokoro safaris***

DAY 3: FLIGHTS MACK AIR: BELMOND EAGLE ISLAND LODGE TO BELMOND SAVUTE ELEPHANT LODGE

DAY 3 - 4 – 5: ACCOMMODATION AT BELMOND SAVUTE ELEPHANT LODGE IN A LUXURY TENTED ROOM ON A FULLY INCLUSIVE BASIS FOR 2 NIGHTS.

Belmond Savute Elephant Lodge hosts a cluster of twelve room residences raised on wooden platforms. Each has an outdoor lounge and is shaded by a traditional thatch roof. The large, private decks are furnished with easy chairs and a hammock. These are ideal for viewing wildlife, or for enjoying a private dinner in complete privacy.

Perched on the banks of the Savute Channel, with an elevated view of the river, Belmond Savute Elephant Lodge is a spectacular base from which to explore the area. Savute is also unrivaled for its sightings of excellent predator / prey interaction and is a ‘must stay’ on any Southern Africa safari. Not to be missed is the Zebra Migration during the months of February and October, when the nutritious grasses of the Savute Marsh attract large herds of zebra. Savute is also home to some very rare rock paintings by Bushmen who once inhabited the region, and its little forests of ancient Baobabs.

Ancient treasures out in the bush, where rocks rear up among stony hills, are a collection of paintings that take your breath away. These works by Bushmen are thought to be more than 1,500 years old—beautiful images of elephant, giraffe and eland antelope. Normally these types of painting might be found hidden in caves, but here, they are out in the wide, open landscape. No-one knows what materials the bushmen used, but the paint is thought to be a mixture of snake venom, blood and plant juices. After viewing these paintings, continue to the amazing baobab grove—a cathedral-like cluster of 13 giant trees that rival the Bushmen’s paintings in age. Stand among these towering columns at sunset, as the evening light bathes them in a russet glow and drinks are handed round—and wonder at this ancient land.

Depending on the season you will also experience the great migration of animals such as zebra and antelope. Rare sightings might include the endangered wild dog, rock-climbing klipspringers and the elegant roan antelope.

Bird Watching The intermittent Savute Channel, dry for 30 years, has recently started flowing past the camp again. With has come a host of new species. Now dry land birds such as bustards and secretary birds have suddenly been joined by more aquatic varieties.

Bushmen Paintings and Baobab Trees Out in the bush, where rocks rear up among stony hills, are a collection of paintings that take your breath away.

These works by Bushmen are thought to be more than 1,500 years old—beautiful images of elephant, giraffe, and sable and eland antelope. After viewing these paintings, continue to the amazing baobab grove—a cathedral-like cluster of 13 giant trees that rival the Bushmen's paintings in age.

The Boma Gather around the campfire in this circular log hut and exchange your day's adventures, much as local villagers do in similar buildings throughout Botswana. Flames flicker and lamps glow as drinks are served; a choir sings traditional songs and invites you to a buffet of African specialties. Then take a comfortable seat and listen as camp guides recount tales of the bush. Musicians strike up traditional songs and the evening often ends with everyone on their feet, dancing to rhythms handed down through generations.
